

"DITTLE STICK"

The Pachmayr Widget Stick is an ingenious tool that will enable you to conquer difficult and frustrating tasks during both disassembly and reassembly of your Colt type autoloading pistol.

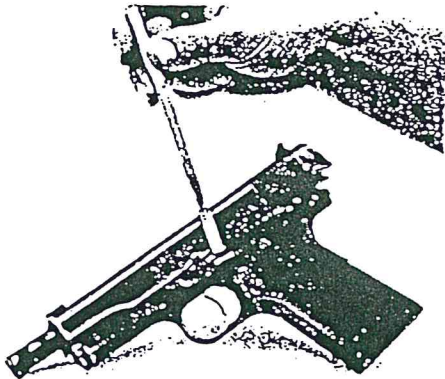

1 The Widget is used to remove a tightly-fitted barrel bushing in the following manner. First, pull the slide back until the barrel bushing is approximately 1" from the end of the muzzle. Then, with the round end of the Widget, push in on the recoil spring plug. While holding this position, simply rotate the barrel bushing approximately 1/4 turn clockwise and remove the recoil plug and spring.

2 To re-install the safety lever, use the flat side of the Widget and slide it - from the rear - under the safety to compress the safety plunger spring. Once the plunger spring is pushed into the plunger tube, applying pressure on the safety lever and simultaneously withdrawing the Widget allows the safety lever to snap into place.

3 To re-install the slide release pin, use the flat side of the Widget and slide it - from the top - between the slide stop pin and slide stop plunger to compress the slide stop plunger spring. Once the plunger spring is pushed into the plunger tube, applying pressure on the slide stop pin and simultaneously withdrawing the Widget allows the slide stop pin to snap into place.

4 To disassemble a magazine, use the Widget to depress the follower and then using a paper clip or small nail, insert between spring and follower. The follower is now free and may be removed through the top of the magazine. Remove paper clip or nail slowly to control magazine spring tension.
